Description of Property and Eligibility Determination

This structure is a standard concrete rigid frame, with four-foot span, which has been widened with an extension at an unknown date. We have determined that this structure lacks the requisite integrity as well as a sufficient degree level significance in intact character-defining characteristics to be considered eligible for inclusion in the National Register as a type of small rigid frame. To be considered for listing, according to the Small Structures on Maryland's Roads, Historic Context Report (p. 4-10) these structures should retain parapets, abutments and wingwalls as primary character defining elements of the substructure. Although this structure retains some of these elements, it lacks wingwalls on at least one of the elevations, and has been extended to attain its current width. This change has compromised the integrity of the structure.
